2. What are the bugs like?

The bugs are to be reckoned with. Fortunately if you're on the water bugs aren't an issue. On land, during certain times in the summer, they can be formidable, but with appropriate insect repellent or a good bug hat or jacket your trip will still be enjoyable. Sunrise and sunset and after or before a rain are the most active times. During the day the bugs stay into the woods and you can enjoy great fishing while on the water.

During June and the first part of July the mosquito's are at their height. The mosquito's thin out after July 15. Black flies are not too bad, but they can be annoying. Black fly season is later in the year from later August to mid September.

Horse and deer flies are out during mid summer when the temperature is at it warmest and the wind is calm.

Bring good deep woods bug repellent and a bug jacket or bug hat for those hikes in the woods. On the water – for the most part the bugs leave you alone.

We have plenty of bug hats for those evenings you want to take a hike in the back woods for those fabulous pictures of the Lodge.
